A Little More History

If you recall, in our last newsletter we left off our little history lesson in the year 2000. That was a great year for us in our beautiful harbour city of Sydney!

Everyone was talking about the Olympic Games here – the vibe was absolutely amazing. Everyone was friendly and excited, and once the games kicked off Sydney was swollen with an extra 2.5 million people from all corners of the globe. It was so busy and exciting I don't think anyone in Sydney got a wink of sleep (including myself). A lot of people I think stayed in Sydney all the way until the New Year's fireworks – and were glad they did, because that was a spectacular event I know I won't soon forget.

As the New Year began I decided the time had come to keep our expansion going strong, so I set out to recruit some new chauffeurs. When I had that squared away it was time for a well-deserved vacation with the family – this ended up being an once-in-a-lifetime three month trip to Italy, France, and the USA. Visiting distant relatives, spending time with my own family, and seeing some of the greatest sights in the world – that was a trip I'll not soon forget

Back home, business took over again and the next few years were spent building up our client list and office staff – which included adding my wife Orestina and our son Jonathan to the team – or as I like to think of them, the Dream Team!

We were doing well – successful business, happy family, plenty to be thankful for. Then in 2009 I had a “brain snap” and woke up with one burning idea: To take the business national! But that's a story for the next issue of this newsletter, right?

Oris's Rant (Part 4)

When you hear my name, two things come to mind: My business, and these rants, for which I'm becoming quite famous. This is where I share my thoughts on the limo & bus industry – or anything else that happens to be on my mind.

Now that all the family is back from their US trip with lots of stories, photos, gifts and some new food ideas that we are now trying, and yes the house was not burnt to the ground while they were away.

They also took the opportunity to document the cultures they were visiting – and to observe the limousines and hire cars they encountered. You can check out my Facebook page to see some great photos of limos in the USA.

It's already April! And that means the Easter Bunny is coming to town very soon – Sunday 20th April, to be precise. I'm looking forward to the hot-cross buns and lots of chocolates (egg-shaped or otherwise).

And of course Friday 25th April is Australia's most important national holiday, ANZAC Day, marking the anniversary of Australia and new Zealand's first military action in World War I, and honouring the ultimate sacrifice made by so many in an effort to make the world a better place.

And of course, Mother's Day is coming as well on Sunday 11th May. On that day it's time to spoil all the mothers in our lives – from our own to our wives to any other mother you know and love!

And as usual in Australia, there are a ton of events to plan for:

Fashion Week:

Mercedes-Benz Fashion Week Australia is coming on 6-12 April! This is the leading fashion event in Sydney, where you can catch a preview of the Spring Summer 2014 collections. Grab your sketchbook and swatches and go!

See a Show:

Based on the beloved film, the live musical version of “Strictly Ballroom” is coming to the Sydney Lyric Theatre on 25th March, engaged until 29th June. “The Lion King,” perhaps one of the most famous staged productions in history, will be playing at the Capitol Theatre from 4th March till 31st August. “Tyrannosaurs – Meet The Family” is the world's first exhibition showcasing ancestors of Tyrannosaurus rex and will be hosted by the Australian Museum from 23rd March till 27th July. Last but certainly not least, the all-time favourite of every parent, the Royal Easter Show, will be hosted at the Sydney Olympic Park from 10th till 23rd April.

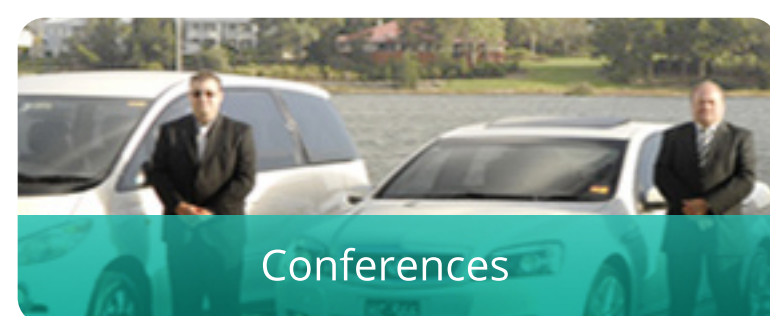

Have a Laugh, a Dance, or Just a Good Time:

Beautiful Melbourne hosts the International Comedy Festival from 26th March till 20th April. The Latin Festival is also being held in that great city from 4th till 6th April, and the Como Gardens open Weekend is scheduled for the 12th & 13th April. For fans of Supa-Star celebrities, the Supanova Pop Culture Expo is in Melbourne from the 11th through the 13th of April. And for film buffs, the St Kilda Film Festival is coming from the 22nd until the 31st of May!

As always around here, there are so many amazing things to do, choosing is the hardest part. If you need any information or if there's anything at all I can do, don't ever hesitate to contact me. As my existing clients know, there's simply nothing I won't do for my customers!

And as always: My advice is to book early to ensure we can provide you with your transportation needs and get you to and from any of these great events in style, safety, and comfort. Call us today and let me know what you need!
